

[The 36th Study Meeting]The First Day:

(1) Regarding the Secretary of the Prince of Wei's Office, by Toshimitsu Shichino (LL.M., Kansai University).

(2) Leases in Boissonade's Draft of the Civil Code, by Shunichiro Koyanagi (Associate Professor, Yamanashi University).

(3) Special Lecture: Earliest Rules of Bologna College, by Domenico Maffei (Rome University).

(4) Special Lecture: 175 Years of History of the Austrian Civil Code, by Werner Ogris (Vienna University).

The Second Day:

(1) Kino Rei and Hitogaeshi Rei (Regulations Governing the Return of Farmers to Their Domiciles) in the Late Tokugawa Era, by Tadahisa Sakamoto (LL.M., Osaka University).

(2) The Theory of the Interest System in the Era of the Late Ancien Régime, by Shiro Okawa (Assistant, Nagoya University).

(3) The Acceptance of Law in Ancient Japan, by Hideaki Iyoku(LL.D., Meiji University).

(4) Political Reformation under the Rule of Joseph II and the Josephina Criminal Code, by Masakatsu Adachi (Professor, Shizuoka University).

(5) A Legal and Socio-Historical Study of the Cho-Son (Town and Village) System in the Meiji Era, by Hisao Ishikawa (Professor, Chukyo University).

b. Sociology of Law

The Japanese Association of Sociology of Law held its 1988 General Meeting on May 14 and 15 at Kobe University.

[The First Day]Section 1:

Vietnam and Vietnamese Law in 1987, by Tsuneo Inako (Professor, Nagoya University) and Masanori Aikyo (Associate Professor, Okayama University).

Section 2:

Legal Institutionalization of Rights and the Social Movements:

a. Background and Purpose, by Setsuo Miyazawa (Professor, Kobe University).

b. Preliminary Comments on Empirical Research Regarding the Formation of New Rights, by Yasuhiro Wada (Lecturer, Osaka Women's University).

c. Movement Activities and Judicial Processes, by Koichi Hasegawa (Associate Professor, Tohoku University).

d. On Rights in Everyday Life, by Toyotake Moriike (Lecturer, Osaka University of Economics and Law).

Section 3:

(1) The Impact of the Introduction in Japan of the New System Governing Foreign Lawyers, by Ryo Hamano (LL.M., Tokyo University).

(2) The Right to Enjoy Nature, by Yasuko Goto (Lecturer, Kansai University).

(3) An Approach to Food and Environmental Problems — Using the Ogata Village Matter as a Case Study, by Shin Oikawa (Professor, Kansei Gakuin University).

Section 4:

(1) Legal Issues Regarding the Vocational Preparation of Retarded Persons, by Hiroshi Osone (Lecturer, Aichi Prefectural University).

(2) The Response of the U.S. Legal System to Child Abuse, by Akiko Tejima (LL.M., Kyoto University).

(3) Urban Patrol Police — Their Roles and Functions, by Masayuki Murayama (Associate Professor, Chiba University).

Section 5:

(1) The "Archaeology" of Postwar Sociology of Law — Modern Capitalism and Remarkable Change in Law, by Kohei Aoki (Lecturer, Kanagawa College of Technology).

(2) The Theory of Rights in Civil Society and the Social Theory, by Toshio Shinohara (Associate Professor, Takasaki Commercial Junior College).

Symposium: On the Development of Sociology of Law.

(1) Sociology of Law: Toward a Basic Theory of the Self-Organicity of Human Society, by Tamito Yoshida (Professor, Tokyo University).

(2) Law in an Urban Society, by Keiichi Matsushita (Professor, Hosei University).

(3) Sociology of Law and "Social History," by Toshio Kuroda (Professor, Osaka University).

(4) On the Relationship between the State and Capitalist Economy in the Crisis of the Welfare State, by Kenichi Miyamoto (Professor, Osaka Municipal University).

[The Second Day]

Symposium: On the Development of Sociology of Law.

(1) In What Way Is Sociology of Law Related to the Concept of Rights, by Setsuko Sato (Professor, Aoyama Gakuin University).

(2) How Much Does a Legal Historian Owe to Sociology of Law, by Ryoji Igata (Professor, Doshisha University).

(3) Sociology of Law and "Social History," by Yasutoshi Ueyama (Professor, Kyoto University).

(4) What We Expect from Sociology of Law — From the Civil Law Standpoint, by Eiichi Hoshino (Professor, Chiba University).

(5) What We Expect from Sociology of Law — From the Criminal Law Standpoint, by Kenichi Nakayama (Professor, Osaka Municipal University).

(6) The Concept of the Individual in the Constitution and Post-war Sociology of Law, by Yoichi Higuchi (Professor, Tokyo University).

(7) What We Expect from Sociology of Law — From the Civil Procedure Standpoint, by Harunori Inoue (Professor, Kobe University).

c. Legal Philosophy

The Japan Association of Legal Philosophy held its 1988 General Meeting on November 11 and 12 at Meiji Gakuin University.