

7. Legal Philosophy

The Japan Association of Legal Philosophy held its 2000 General Meeting at Tokai University on November 11 and 12, 2000. The Theme of the meeting was "Public and Private". The details of the program for the meeting were:

(1) The Concept of "the Political" in the Uncertain Society: the Social Theory of Risk and the Deliberative Democracy, by Yasutoshi Mouri (Eichi University).

(2) F. A. Hayek as an "Old Whig": The Contemporary Meaning of Hayek's Political and Social Philosophy in the Era of Globalization after the Cold War, by Masaru Yamanaka (Kogakukan University).

(3) The Reconstruction of "Public/Private" in "Political Liberalism": J. Rawles and R. Rorty, by Mikio Watanabe (Associate Professor, Yamaguchi University).

(4) On the Structure of Legal Application: from the Viewpoint of rule and Reason, Karino Michinori (Waseda University).

(5) Law, Dicipinary Power, and Resistance: Thinking about Law and Power from M. Foucault, by Yoshinori Seki (Hitotsubashi University).

(6) What Kind of Experience is it to Live in an Institution?, by Kosuke Nasu (Lecturer, Setsunan University).

(7) The Reconstruction of "Public/Private": Resolving the Common Theme, by Yasutomo Moriwaki (Professor, Nagoya University).

(8) Public as Open: Philosophical Meaning of the Disclosure and Accountability of Information, by Hirohide Takigawa (Associate Professor, Osaka University)

(9) Comment on Associate Professor Takigawa, by Ryosuke Hirai (Kyoto Institute of Technology).

(10) Reorganization of the Public/Private Distinction in Family, by Katsumi Yoshida (Professor, Hokkaido University).

(11) Comment on Professor Yoshida, by Hiroyuki Takai (Professor, Kyoto University).

(12) Redefinition of Market and State, by Makoto Usami (Associate Professor, Chukyo University).

(13) Network and Public Interest, by Toshiki Sato (Tokyo University).

(14) Comment on the Reports from the Viewpoint of Business Administration, by Tadao Kagono (Kobe University).

(15) Comment on the Reports from the Viewpoint of Japanese Legal History, by Takeshi Mizubayashi (Tokyo Metropolitan University).

HIDEO SASAKURA

HIROKO KAWADA (EDS.)

8. International Law

A. The Japanese Association of International Law held its 2000 Spring Session at Kyoto Sangyo University on May 14, with the following papers presented:

(1) Active Implementation of Multilateral Environmental Treaties, by Hiroshi Ishizaki (Professor, Iwate University)

(2) Towards the Mainstreaming of Human Rights: Human Rights in International Law, by Koki Abe (Professor, Kanagawa University)

(3) Trade Liberalization and Protection of Domestic Industry under the WTO system, by Isamu Mamiya (Associate Professor, Meiji University)

(4) WTO and Global Governance, by Tatsuo Akaneya (Associate Professor, Tsukuba University)

(5) New Developments in the International Unification of Private Law: From the Perspective of Legislative Innovation, by Akira Saito (Professor, Kansai University)

B. The Japanese Association of International Law held its 2000 Autumn Session at Chuo University on October 14 and 15, with the common themes of “The Role of States in the Implementation of International Law”. The following papers were presented: